FR. BEN'S COLUMN

Directions to Heaven

A few years ago, a friend of mine in another diocese received a change of assignment and he moved to a rural part of his Kentucky diocese. He invited me to come and visit the church and rectory and I asked him how rural the place was. He said it was not far from some major town, but it was pretty rural. He said the roads were hilly, narrow with lots of winding bends. When he was giving me directions he said: You will know you are about a half a mile from the church, when to the right side as you travel you will see a derelict car, on a mound, sitting in the middle of a field, and on top of the car there will probably be standing two goats. One on the roof and one on the hood. Sure enough, as I drove by the field, here was a car with two goats standing on it. This is an absolutely true story.

If you ask people here in the States for directions, they usually answer with road numbers and compass directions. If I was asking the way to Columbus for example a person is likely to tell me that I take I-75 North to Exit 42, I-675 to Exit 26A, I-70 East. Simple! Right? In the States we give directions according to numbers, map directions, and compass points.

If you ask for the same directions in Ireland, it might go something like this: "Do you see that road over there? You don't take that one." And it begins! "You take that road over there and when you pass Murphy's pub on the left, you turn right and go for about half a mile. You will know you have gone half a mile because you will pass a yellow house. After you turn right you travel until you see a big fine house, standing in a field, all alone, and you'll think to yourself, what on God's earth does a fine house like that have any reason to be in such a lonely field? You turn left at the big house and that will lead you to O'Connor's Barn. It's called O'Connor's Barn, which is really a pub but because they don't want the tax man to know it's a pub, they call it a barn." In Ireland we give directions according to landmarks.

The Church's year does not end on the 31st of December but on the Feast of Christ the King which is the Sunday after the 33rd Sunday in Ordinary Time. So, we are moving toward the end of the Church Year. As we move toward the end of the year, the readings in the Scripture typically begin to reflect on what is called the Last Things: Death, Judgement, Hell, and Heaven. Most of all, we focus on how we get to heaven or hell. So, the Gospel today is not really about marriage but about the resurrection of the dead. Unlike the Pharisees, the Sadducees did not believe in the resurrection of the dead and so they are asking Jesus a cheeky question to make fun of the belief in resurrection. Jesus draws them back, however, to the real issue: How we live here will determine where we go after death. For the righteous, those who lived a good life here on earth, death will bring resurrection and life in heaven. Jesus is telling them that what we should be concerned about is how we get there. There is a map, directions, for getting to heaven and that map shows us the way, and that way is a person, Jesus. Jesus said: I am the Way. As we move toward the end of the year, the readings remind us that we have a purpose in life and a destiny. Living as God wants us to live, caring for those God wants us to care for, being who God sent us into the world to be, these are the things that will bring us to the place God wants us to be – with Him, in Heaven.

RITE OF CHRISTIAN INITIATION OF ADULTS – RCIA
RITE OF CHRISTIAN INITIATION ADAPTED FOR CHILDREN

St. Dominic's RCIA process continues year-round. Because of this, adults and children can begin at any time. Most who come to the Catholic Church as adults do so because God has called them through other people. If you know someone who may be interested in the Catholic Faith, ask him or her to contact us, or ask if he or she would like for you to make the first "contact." New Inquirers are able to join St. Dominic's RCIA process at any time. Now is a great time to reach out and mention becoming Catholic to someone you know who may be considering it! Contact Karen Brandstetter at 471-7741, ext. 481 or kbrandstetter@stdominicdelhi.org for more information about St. Dominic's RCIA.

LIVE LIKE A SAINT TODAY

In our Gathering Place, you will see the work of our students with their new "Live Like a Saint Today" project. Our students are learning about a different Saint in each classroom this year! They will spend the year discovering the life and faith of the Saint for their classroom. They will also be celebrating the love of God that their Saint reflected with their life, then and now. Over the course of the students' years here at St. Dominic, they will learn about a variety of Saints: women and men, young and old, rich and poor; Saints who were from the earliest days of Christianity, to some who have lived within the most recent of times. The Saints that have been chosen for this project represent 6 of the 7 continents of our world and all of them lived such lives of faith that they shine the light of Christ still today. The St. Dominic-Delhi Knights of Columbus have made this project possible for our students with their generous financial support, and our children and their teachers are very grateful!

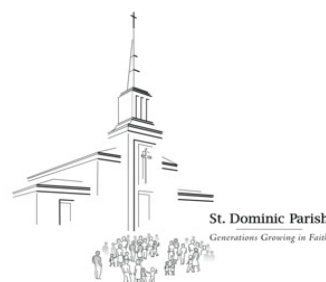

The name of this project comes from Fr. Jim who has been challenging all of us to "Live like a Saint Today!" Throughout his years here as pastor. Thanks, Fr. Jim, for expecting the best from all of us when it comes to being followers of Jesus! Let us all live like Saints today and every day!

COLLECTION FOR MILITARY SERVICESThis weekend

This week, our parish will take a collection to benefit the Archdiocese for the Military Services, USA (AMS), a collection approved by the U.S. Conference of Catholic Bishops to be taken every three years. The AMS is the Archdiocese for the Military Services, not of the Military Services. This is an important distinction, because the AMS receives no funding from the U.S. Government or U.S. Military and has no parishes from which to receive a weekly assessment. Instead, it must rely on the generosity of those whose values and priorities align with its mission, programs and services, to meet its costs. Please prayerfully consider a contribution to this special collection to support active-duty military men and women, and their families – including those from our own parish. Please give generously.
