PARISH OFFICE CLOSED

In observance of St. Patrick's Day, the Parish Office will be closed on Friday, March 17.

RITE OF SENDING

Last weekend, the parish celebrated the Rite of Sending at the 9:30 a.m. Mass. In this rite, the godparents/sponsors of our candidates and catechumens attest that they are prepared to begin the final preparation period for full participation in the Catholic Church. The parish community also has the opportunity to express our support as we "send" them to the Rite of Election, assured of the parish's care and support.

This year, we have eight adults and young people who will be fully initiated into the Catholic faith. We also have six adults and young people who will complete their initiation with the Sacraments of Confirmation and First Eucharist.

The Rite of Election took place last Sunday afternoon with Archbishop Schnurr at the Cathedral Basilica of St. Peter in Chains. In this rite, the church makes its election or choice, that our candidates and catechumens along with those from other parishes around the Archdiocese, are in fact, ready for the final preparation for the celebration of the Sacraments of Initiation at the Easter Vigil, on Saturday, April 8.

If you know someone who may be interested in the Catholic faith, now may be the time to encourage them to ask questions and perhaps become part of our RCIA process. Contact Karen Brandstetter at 513-471-7741, ext. 481 or email at kbrandstetter@stdominicdelhi.org for more details.

FR. BEN'S COLUMN

Lent: A Time to make things right!

When I began primary school (elementary school) the first grade a child entered was called "low babies." From there you graduated to "high babies" and from there to first class (grade). Early on, I remember my parents helping me with my homework, learning to write capital and small case letters on a lined copy book, and learning to add and subtract. In first grade, and beyond, we had to memorize math tables and we had spelling books with hundreds of words to memorize. From the very first day, I hated school, I hated homework, and I hated having to memorize all this stuff.

Once I got out from the basics, and my parents' keen supervision, I never did any homework. Typically, I would run home from school, throw my book bag in a corner just inside the hall door, scoff down a sandwich and a glass of milk, hit the bathroom (literally), and then head out onto the street to play, soccer, or street cricket, or street tennis, or whatever the seasonal sport was at the time. We played all day, from after school to after dark, only stopping to answer the call of nature or for a food break. It was the same through high school.

The book bag never left the space behind the hall door until the next morning when it was carried to school. It contained the most underused books in school history. In school I would copy homework from my best friend who sat next to me and hope for the best. The worse part came when it was time for spelling. Spelling was a public event. The master would have each boy stand and, in front of the whole class, publicly spell the words we had to memorize the evening before. The consequence for failure was two strokes of a bamboo cane on each hand, multiplied for each failed spelling. Typically, I received six such strokes every day from first grade to eighth grade. Was it deserved? – Yes. Was it worth it? – Darn right! However, to this day, my spelling and grammar are crap!

Things only changed when I began to study for the priesthood. I went from an average student to a Doctor of Theology. I have four degrees and still can't spell to save my life. What changed? Focus, interest, a vision, and a goal. I was driven to succeed, and I had a genuine interest in what I was doing. I was focused on what God was calling me to do in life, to be in life, a priest. That made all the difference.

On Ash Wednesday we began Lent. Lent is a time for spiritual reassessment, refocus and renewal. Most of us enter this period in a general way but this year it might be a good idea to focus not on penance, or giving up things, or even alms. Instead, maybe it would be good to focus on what it is God has called us to do in life and who He is asking me to be. If He has asked you to be a husband or wife, ask yourself if you are the husband or wife that your spouse needs you to be. If you are not, well, it's not too late to change. If you are a father or mother, ask yourself, if you are the father or mother your children need you to be. If you are not, well then, change. If you are a brother or sister, friend, son or daughter, a priest, a religious sister or brother, or a leader of others; let us ask ourselves – am I a blessing in the life of those I love or who love me? If not – well then, it's not too late to change. This Lent, focus on who God wants you to be; examine your conscience and see who you actually are. If they don't match, well, fix the difference. This Lent question, examine "How I live and who I have become". Then ask, "How does God want me to live, who does God want me to be?" Then fix the difference. Or better still, ask God to help you fix the difference.

Let's face it, being who God created us to be, is the blessing God intends us to be in the lives of those we live with.

FROM FR. JIM

There was a special gathering in O'Connor Hall on Friday, February 17. Fifty men and women from thirty-two different countries took the oath of allegiance and became citizens of the United States of America. Our principal, Jenny O'Brien, welcomed everyone, our eighth graders and our Student Council were hosts and hostesses, our Blackhawk Singers entertained with a program of patriotic songs, our Boy Scout troop served as color guard, and our PTO provided refreshments. Judge Karen Litkovitz presided. The most impressive part of the ceremony is when the new citizens stand up when their name and country of origin are read, countries all over the world, places like, India, China, Ethiopia, Haiti, Brazil, Morocco, Venezuela, Kyrgyzstan, Pakistan, the Philippines, Vietnam, etc.!

It takes four to six years to become a citizen. Having been born in the United States, we can take the blessings of this country for granted. The joy and happiness on the faces of the new citizens reminded me of how blessed we are in this country. I was also reminded that God continues to bless America in the new citizens with their talents, gifts, and skills. It was a memorable event! Another feather in the cap of St. Dominic School!

This is also another way that St. Dominic is a Good News Parish, an Evangelizing community of faith! It is our way of providing a welcoming environment and experience for our new fellow citizens!

We would like to thank everyone who participated in the 2023 Catholic Ministries Appeal. Your generous gifts have impacted thousands through six important Catholic ministries right here in our Archdiocese. Additionally, 50% of all pledges in excess of our parish goal will stay in our parish, so please be as generous as you can. THE SHROUD OF TURIN AND THE BURIAL CLOTHS OF CHRIST – Presented by Frank Denome on March 28 at 7:00 p.m. at Our Lady of Victory's Convocation Center. The Shroud has been touted as a medieval fake and carbon dating appears to support that claim. But are those results reliable? Can the "other" burial cloths aid in refuting this claim? Come and hear what recent scientific research and historical evidence have to say about the authenticity of the Shroud. Full size images of the Shroud of Turin, the Veil of Manoppello, and the Sudarium of Oviedo will be available for viewing. For more information, please contact the Our Lady of Victory Parish Office at 513- 922-4460. There is no charge for the event.

LENTEN CONCERT WITH MIKE DAVIS – Join popular singer and Catholic Evangelist/Educator Mike Davis on Wednesday, March 15 at 7:00 p.m. as he presents "Come Watch With Me: The Perfect Storm".
